Scoul on 24th May. No doubt Mr. Bryant will publish his experiences by road later on. Just now he is anxious to get back to the only place of safety he may have been undertaken by a foreigner, we may add voluntarily, for a few years ago, 1879, Menseigneur Edo, the Roman Catholic Bishop, who had been a prisoner for some months, and who escaped being put to death simply because a son was born to the Queen of Korea, which event precluded any executions taking place for a year, was a ward of the Hornsby Kirkwood, and, therefore, was released the first day of his incarceration. The crew of a vessel erected near the Korean coast travelled overland to this port about the year 1866. Mr. Bryant we learn, had no difficulty whatever on the road. — N. C. Daily News Correspondent

JAPAN.

NAGASAKI.

The Russian man-of-war Borodino arrived at Nagasaki from Amakusa via Honsan on the 20th instant, and is expected to leave for Vladivostok in a few days.

The U. S. Richmond has, the Nagasaki Express says, received telegraphic orders that she is to proceed home-ward the Cope, although it will probably be at least two months before she actually leaves the straits.

A native harpooner and Yamaichi Suyoshi of Nagasaki, Yamachi, has, the Nagasaki Express says, been sentenced at the local Criminal Court to 18 months' imprisonment for permitting his Chinese employ, Chin Yoku, to smoke opium on his premises.

It is stated, says the Morinichi Shimbun, that the Takachika Kwa, Nanmei Kwa, Yamada Kwa, Teikoku Kwa, Kaimon Kwa, and Yamashita Kwa, the first-named being the head of the Yamashita family, will leave the port of Nagasaki on the 20th instant, and will have the end of this month or early in July, the return voyage will be made to Hakkaido from Vladivostok via the Island of Ushima. They were intended some time ago to proceed home-ward, but were prevented by various circumstances, so that this will be the first visit of a Japanese squadron to foreign ports. — Nagasaki Express.

YOKOHAMA.

The Japanese Gazette of the 19th instant says: "The British squadron, which we will hear leave to-morrow, will be at sea a day's cruise to the port of Saikio. H. M. S. Reindeer, who the vessels will all return again to this port in review order. We also learn that it has been decided that for the future all H. M. S. ships in the Far East are to be painted black, both hulls and masts: the reason for this change is probably to avoid being easily detected by the electric search lights."

COCHIN-CHINA.

SAIGON.

We hear that cholera still prevails at Saigon. The rains have set in, and the atmosphere is much cooler, but the weather is said to be still very oppressive and quite different from that of former years.

The French Government, in inviting the Chinese to the Paris Centennial Exhibition of next year, especially requests Annamite painters, sculptors, etc., to profit by this occasion to let their native art become known to France and the world generally.

ANNAM.

It is officially announced that the King of Cambodia will visit the Paris Exhibition next year. The King of Annam has written to M. Carnot, President of the French Republic, asking that Annam may be allowed to preserve its political and financial autonomy under the Protectorate, and that that King, like France, Cambodia, may have a Resident-General, having no connection with Tonquin, and responsible only to the Government of Indo-China.

TONQUIN.

A band of pirates in the province of Hanoi, Tonquin, which has had a fortress since 1848, has been, it is said, being unable, owing to the precautions which had been taken, to obtain any more ammunition. In an engagement on the 5th June they lost sixteen killed and a considerable number wounded.
